Junior Class

The junior class, under the leadership of their officers, has accomplished much since they arrived at Corcoran. Breaking the usual tradition of ending the sophomore year in poverty, the class of '75 has raised money through sales, and by co-sponsoring dances. The class is looking forward to a great year as seniors.

Sophomore Class

Advisors for the group are Miss Worden, Mr. Curtin, and Mr. Belloma. The class is planning on raising money by bake sales, coat room duties during dances, paper drives, and other money making projects. Two students were selected from each sophomore homeroom to represent their classmates keeping them informed of class activities. The officers and advisors are doing their best to carry on the "Spirit of '76."

alicia . . .

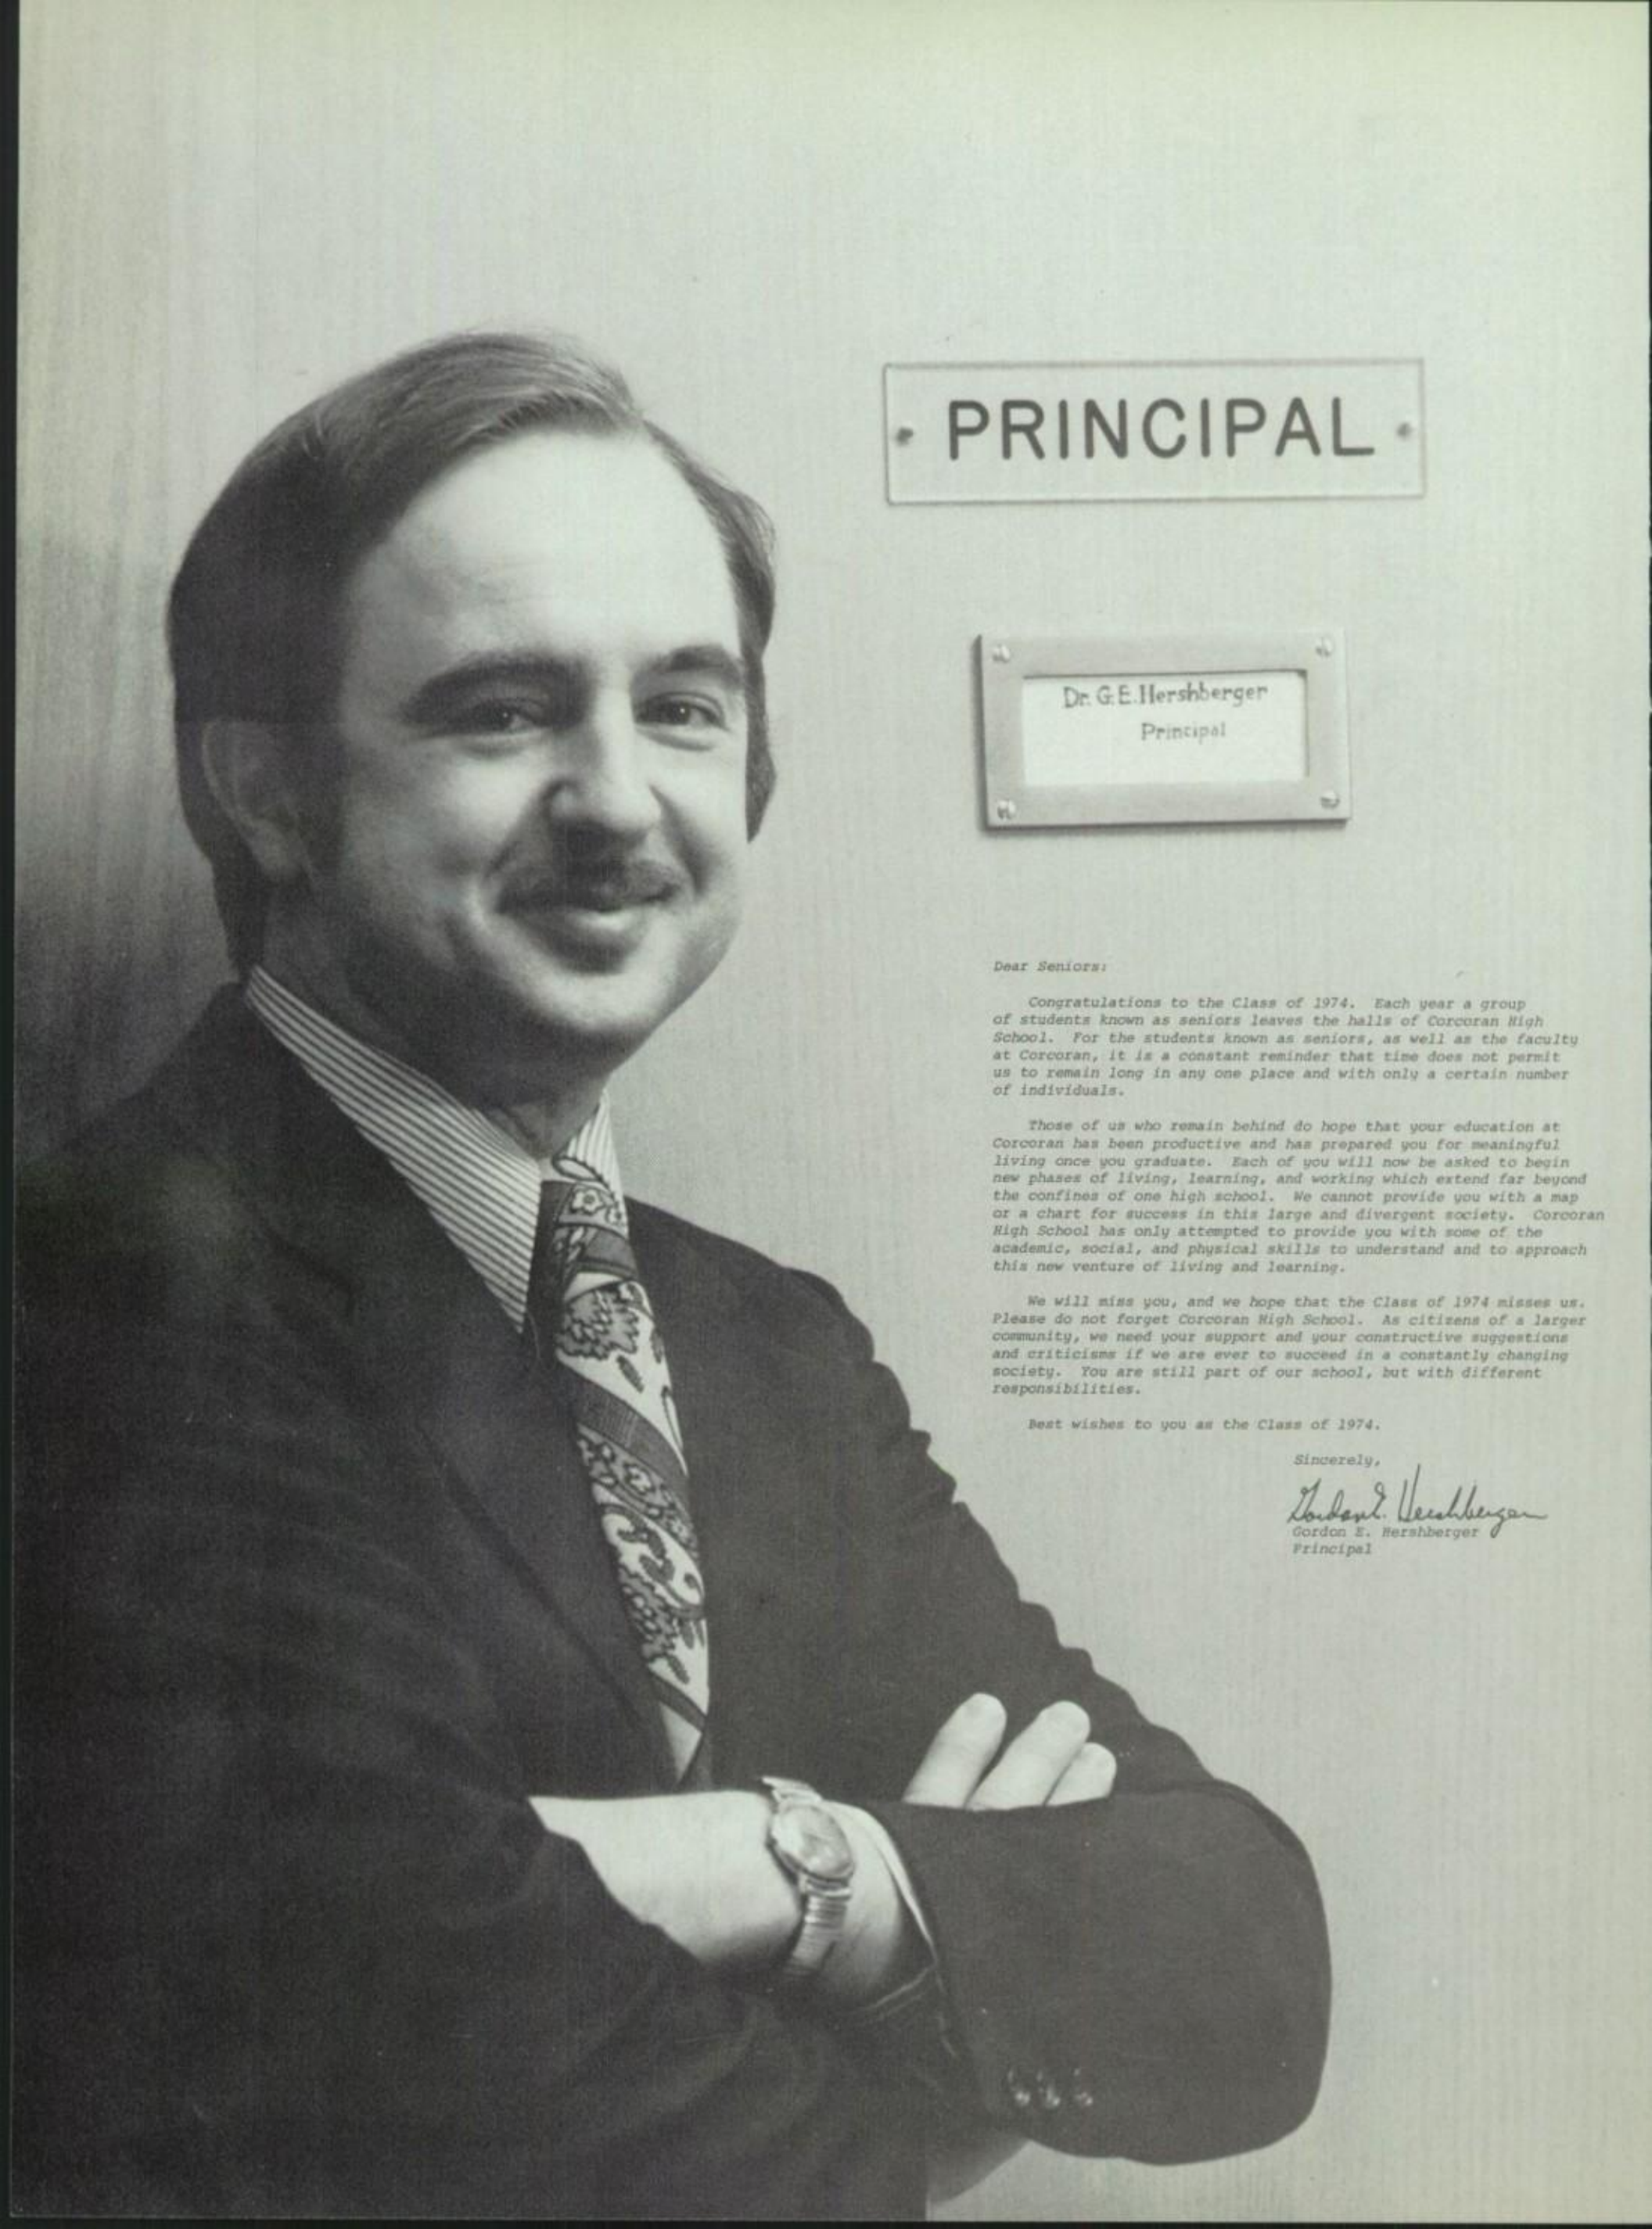

Alicia was and will always be remembered as one of God's special persons placed here on earth. She had a beautiful soul and a loving heart that went with her always. Although Alicia is not with us now, I know that in our hearts she'll never leave us. The remembrance of her happy, friendly ways, her laughter, her smile and the life that she put into our lives will never be lost. Just knowing her made our lives seem brighter. The love and happiness that she brought to her family and friends will always be remembered.

A friend

. . . as long as life and memory last, we will remember thee . . .

FACULTY

• PRINCIPAL •

Dr. G.E. Hershberger
Principal

Dear Seniors:

Congratulations to the Class of 1974. Each year a group of students known as seniors leaves the halls of Corcoran High School. For the students known as seniors, as well as the faculty at Corcoran, it is a constant reminder that time does not permit us to remain long in any one place and with only a certain number of individuals.

Those of us who remain behind do hope that your education at Corcoran has been productive and has prepared you for meaningful living once you graduate. Each of you will now be asked to begin new phases of living, learning, and working which extend far beyond the confines of one high school. We cannot provide you with a map or a chart for success in this large and divergent society. Corcoran High School has only attempted to provide you with some of the academic, social, and physical skills to understand and to approach this new venture of living and learning.

We will miss you, and we hope that the Class of 1974 misses us. Please do not forget Corcoran High School. As citizens of a larger community, we need your support and your constructive suggestions and criticisms if we are ever to succeed in a constantly changing society. You are still part of our school, but with different responsibilities.

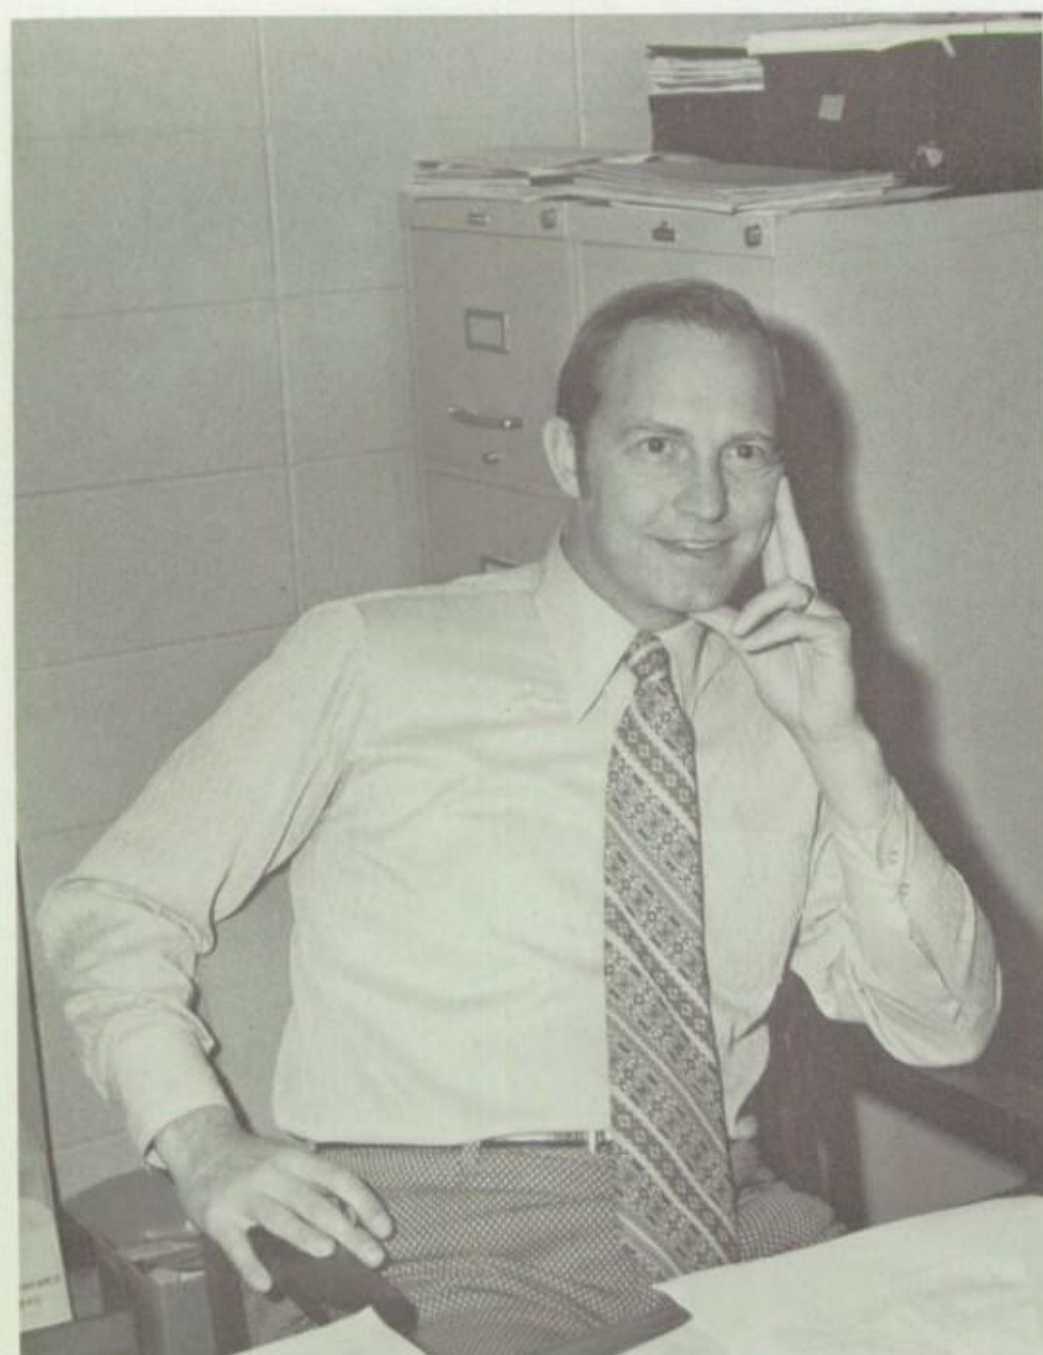

Best wishes to you as the Class of 1974.

Sincerely,

Gordon E. Hershberger

Cougar Review

If there is a common cry among the many sports here at TJC, it's "Wait 'til next year!" For in men's athletics, the football, soccer, basketball, cross-country, and wrestling teams all completed seasons with very disappointing records.

But there is always some good with the bad, and even though many of the athletic campaigns ended in near disaster, a few accomplishments are noteworthy.

Football managed to give it's followers a short-lived sensation for league leadership as the team strung together three wins. Unfortunately, it didn't win any more.

The soccer team, after losing every starter from a year ago put together three victories.

Of course, there are the basketball, wrestling, and cross-country teams that are all rebuilding. Although they didn't collect many wins, they did give 100% in hustle, which is more important than victory.

But all in all the Corcoran athletic calendar did manage a surprise and in cases it lived up to expectations.

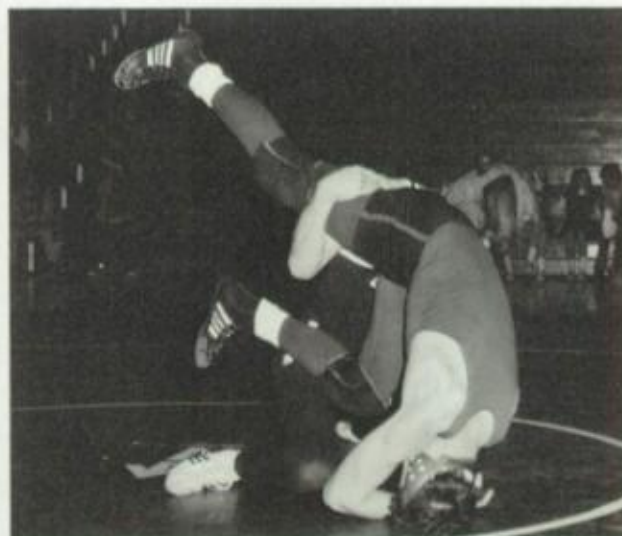

tations.

Labeled as a "rebuilding" and "let's see what happens" sort of ball team, the Cougar baseball team surprised everyone by taking first place in the Section III playoffs, thus continuing its dominance and proud tradition as a league power.

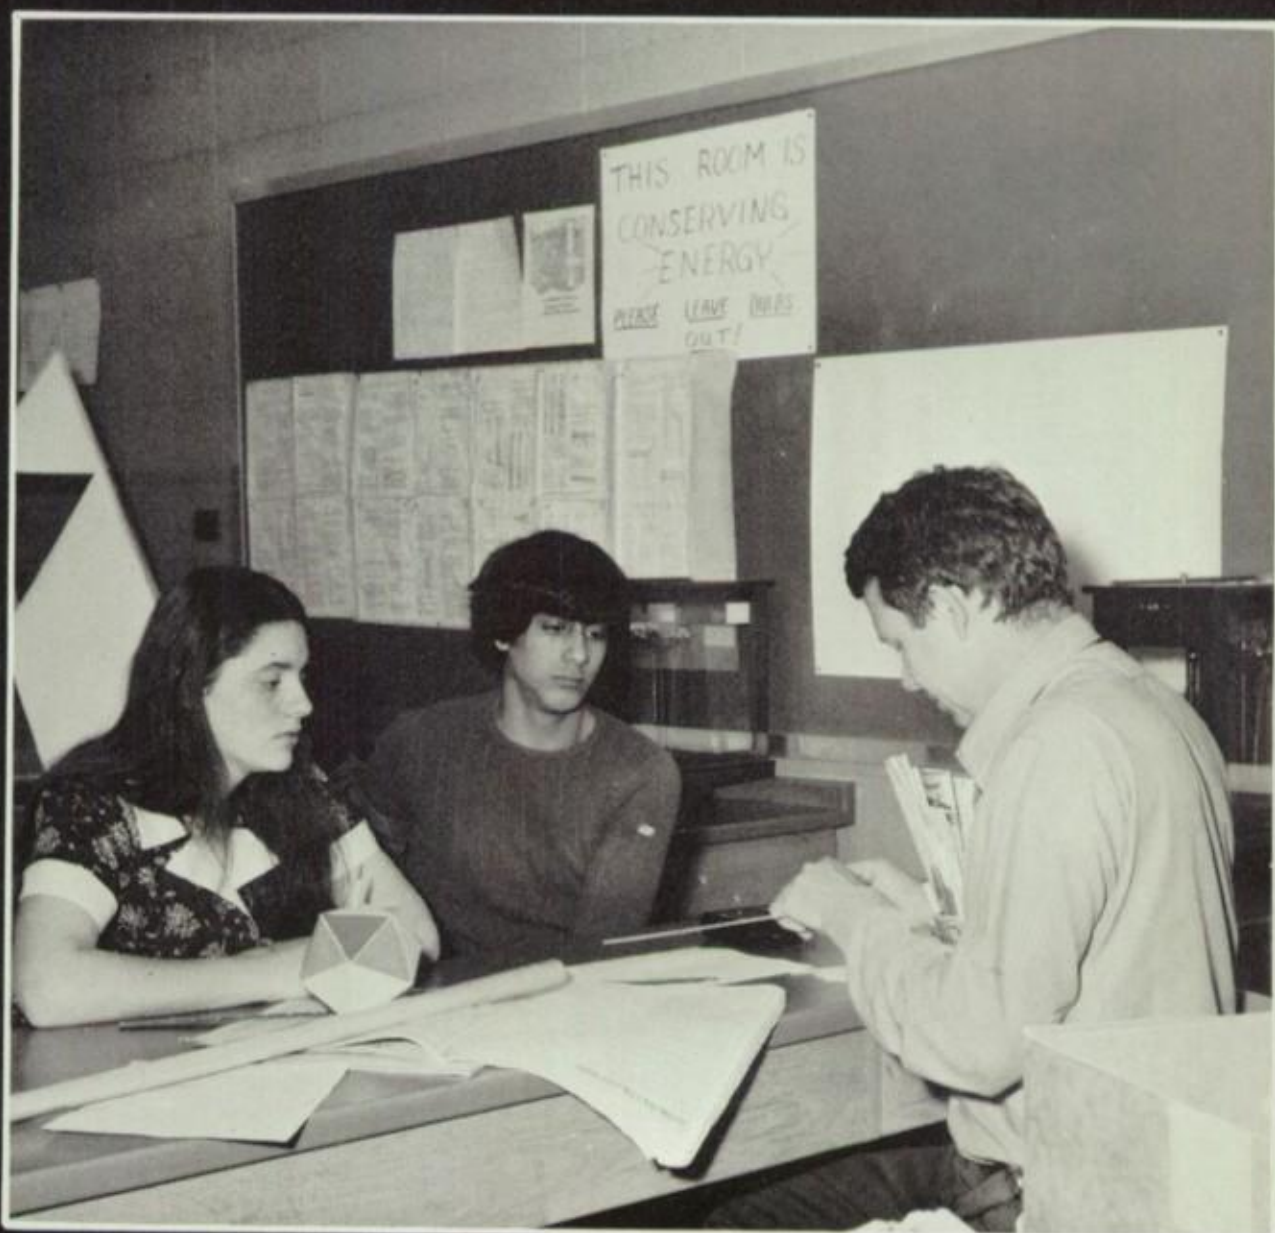

Tennis, lacrosse, and boys' gymnastics all made strong efforts during their seasons as each entered and finished their campaigns as "top contenders" in their individual sports.

As for the female athletics here at Corcoran, women's lib finally came around. In girl's softball, soccer, tennis, basketball, and gymnastics our TJC future "Billy Jean King" hopefuls all had fine showings in their sports, and an average better than the men.

The 1973 campaign saw womens' athletics post a championship team in softball, a soccer team finishing a close second in league competition, and a gymnastic team that consistently produced fine individual performances. m.a.d.

ORGANIZATIONS

School Government Officers

first row: k. gilson, s. horning, c. braunitzer second row: j. smorol, r. alden.

The Student Government is a success. With the help of the entire school, the senates, the officers, and "Southy," much has been accomplished this year. The year started off with the Greaser's dance rolling in the riches. This enabled clubs and organizations to have many desired trips and materials. At the end of October the entire school participated in a "spirit week" with the students and faculty showing great enthusiasm. The week ended with a bonfire, dance, car parade, football game and pancake breakfast. The "Grease" was "in" this year and a Christmas dance featured Big Wheely and the Hubcaps. Besides bringing entertainment and activities to the school, the student government acted on many student and school problems brought to their attention.

Senior Senate

The senior senate this year met fourth period in room 325 to plan senior sponsored activities. Their ideas became reality and Corcoran students found themselves helping with bake sales, going to dances having coffee houses, and hopefully going to the prom and graduation.

The Superintendent's Cabinet is a small body of concerned students and advisors. The four senior high schools each have equal representation in the cabinet. The Superintendent Cabinet members, meet once every month with the superintendent of schools and other school district officials. They discuss problems and make proposals for these problems.

Audio Visual

Audio visual services to Corcoran include delivery and pick-up of instructional hardware, mimeograph and ditto materials. This department could not function without the "crew" which includes the Independent Work Experience class and its generous volunteers.

A.F.S.

cheryl and her a.f.s. family.

Thanks to the Corcoran Chapter of the American Field Service (AFS) I find myself, Cheryl Mellor, spending a full year in Rêves, Belgium. In French, Rêves means "dreams" and it often seems like a dream since I'm now living in the country doing such things as: feeding chickens; riding tractors; shaking walnuts from our tree; running through fields; witnessing the process of killing a pig; assisting with the birth of a calf; and appreciating nature -- I could go on and on.

Although it's not easy to keep in mind that I am the one who is different in Belgium, it is my responsibility to recognize the differences, to accept them and ultimately to adapt to those differences. I am not here to pass judgements nor am I living in Rêves to try to change their present way of life by introducing mine.

I have learned three main things during my stay in Belgium. First of all, I have discovered that patience is a real necessity. Anything worth having is worth waiting for, be it news from home, fluency in French or even acceptance into the school community.

Secondly, the Belgians have taught me that to talk WITH someone rather than to talk TO someone is much more effective and desirable. Talking WITH a person is a kind gesture for there exists an atmosphere of sharing. To communicate in a selfish manner is to talk TO someone else, thus refusing the opportunity for an interesting and worthwhile discussion.

The third and most important lesson that I have learned is that, in general, people are basically alike, no matter on what soil they live. They have similar needs, similar aspirations and they often whisper similar prayers for the future of the world.

Incidentally, AFS means peace. . . Cheryl Mellor

French Club

"Le Club Français", wheech meets zee Tuesdays in room 318 under the supreme guidance of Zsa Zsa Murphy, provides an opportunity (par excellence) to develop one's sense of zee French culture . . . In Novembre, a gourmet dee-lite was prepared by 25 chefs, for the "jour de grâce" . . . The students are tutoring à Roberts School for credit; a "pen-pal" exchange arranged by our A.F.S. student, Cheryl Mellor, has been a most exciting contact with French and Belgian cultures . . . Evenings of conversation (soirées) give one and all the chance to practice their French in an informal situation . . . Speakers from various travel agencies have excited our imaginations as to the possibility of travel. The group is planning a trip to La Belle Québec in the spring. Les français also hope to entertain area A.F.S. students for a day in the near future. Vive le Club Français.

El club de español consiste de los estudiantes de español a quines les interesa la cultura española y hispanoamericana. Ademas del aspecto cultural el club de este ano esta planeando su viaje a Espana durante las vacaciones de la primavera. The QUILL, under the supreme guidance of super jock, Mr. Morse (8-man football freak), uncovered such sensationals as "How much is that doggie in the window", "waterleak", and "the chocolate-chip cookie shortage". It sure looks like another banner year.

Reflections

Take a close look at the people pictured upon this page. See if you can determine what it is that would drive such otherwise normal American teenagers into assuming such poses. What is it that made them all join REFLECTIONS, that so-called literary-art magazine, which has been publishing two issues per year for the last seven years, despite all the public pressure against them? (Once, even the SPCA had to get after them, for what they had said about nature among the lower forms of life.) They consider themselves, no doubt, budding journalists, in love with The Word; but any psychiatrist could tell what was really wrong with them . . . if only they knew. Mr. Peppone and Mr. Phippen are the advisors to this group, and they are guilty, but hardly responsible, for what happens when this group convenes in room 209 after school on Wednesdays for one of their incredible critical sessions . . . (There oughta be a picture of that!)

These students volunteer (most receive credit in the independent work experience program) during their unassigned class periods. They type, work at the circulation desk, file cards, maintain back-issue magazines, and are generally an indispensable part of the operation of Corcoran library. Both students and faculty benefit from their help.

Future Educators

This year the future educators have been attending a weekly workshop where they prepare manipulative materials for the elementary grades at Seymour School. The majority of the members have also been tutoring children in reading and math at Roberts School. The future educators have also spent a day observing classes at Jamesville-Dewitt High School. Future plans include visiting an area college to observe classes.

FBLA—FSA

FBLA, a national organization, is open to all business students. FBLA is designed to develop leadership, encourage cooperation between business and schools, and stimulate an interest in becoming leaders in business. FSA, sponsored by the National Secretaries Association, is open to all business students, with the programs planned especially for secretarial students. FSA meets monthly on a city-wide basis and as often as necessary within the school.

The Corcoran ski club was "recalled to life" in '74 under the enthusiastic direction of "Crabby" Appleton. They took a series of eight weekly skiing lessons at Labrador Mountain. Thirteen of the members flew to Saas Fie in Switzerland during the mid semester break in February.

Action Team

Even though the accomplishments of the Action Team may seem small, their dedication is large. By putting on a variety of activities A.T. attempted to bring students together. During Open House, the Action Team greeted parents, introduced the goals of the team, and extended an invitation to become a part of it.

During the year A.T. sponsored a Noon-Day Dance, which turned out to be as much fun for the teachers as for the students. With many fund-raising ventures, the Team raised its treasury from eight dollars to more than a hundred dollars. This year the Action Team tackled the cafeteria by campaigning for a cleaner eating atmosphere.

The history of the Action Team has been a great one, and we hope the spirit of bringing students, black and white, together will be carried on by the Action Teams of the future.

SENIOR CLASS ADVISORS

The class of '74 would like to thank their senior advisors, Mrs. Bluem, Miss Washville, and Mr. Walsh. Out of the woodwork you came and finally things started to happen in our senior year. Fall Weekend, Big Wheelie and the Hub-caps, and of course, the Stomping Suede Greasers are just a few times you've made possible for us to look back on. As we look back on the social functions of our senior year, we will remember you. Thank you.

The Class of '74

This year Corcoran gained intellectual acclaims when the team of John Frenz, Barb Cook, and “Captain” Arvo Kaseorg scored two stunning victories on the local “It’s Academic” quiz show. The trio tallied 300 points on the first show, defeating Canastota and W. Genesee and thus earning a set of encyclopedias for the school. They moved into the quarter-finals where, in a run-away match, they trounced ESM and Bishop Grimes by scoring 470 points, which turned out to be the highest total in “It’s Academic” (Syracuse) history. We all commend heartily this first Corcoran team to ever win on this show, and wish them luck on future programs.

I know there's an energy crisis, but this is ridiculous!

The pause that refreshes

No, do it like this.

Look ma, no feet!!

And now for today's lesson . . .

The finishing touch

Catching forty winks

Waddaya Mean, "that

Behold us the young — the spirited — the carefree, laughing and joyful young, we are the builders of tomorrow.

This will make my 927th ashtray this semester.

Twist and Shout

Tadah! I ate the whole thing!

Milk and cookie time

Mmm Mmm Good

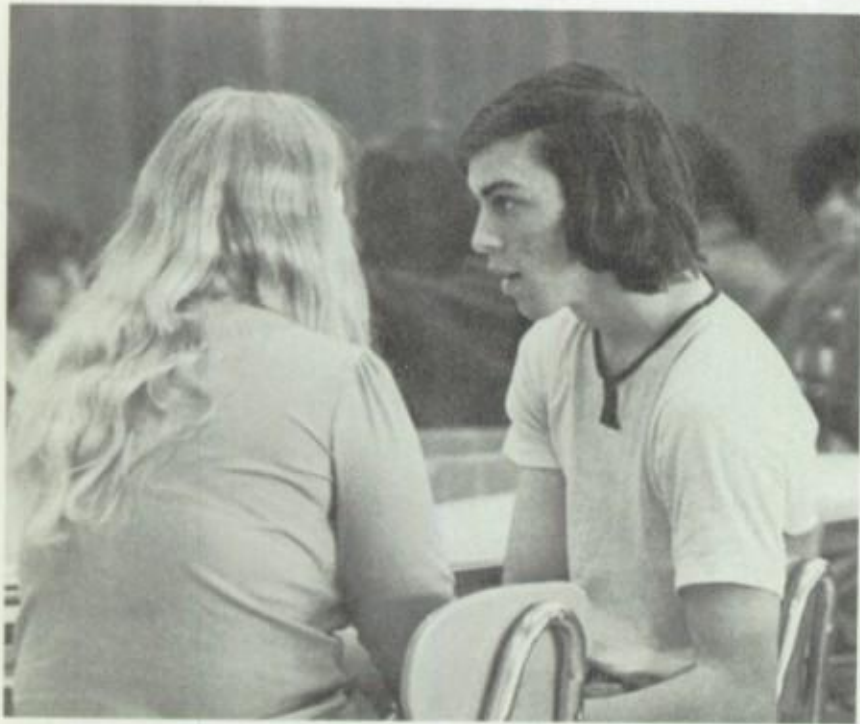

Look at us — a group of anxious, thriving hard-to-beat kids — What do we know of tomorrow

Hop in and we'll go to McDonald's.

An apple a day . . .

Hundreds of individuals together—working, talking,
laughing, crying, being.
In the ever-evolving process
of yearning and learning
We've only just begun
Youth growing—with youth

Endless mirrors fixed in our heads,
all reflected the days of old,
Captain Kangaroo and Superman,
Tricycle races and mad dashes,
Hidden secret, with a far off game
of spin-the-bottle,
soaping windows, stealing endless pennies,
father's booze that tasted so good Long days in the sun, endless hour all past before to reflect the past . . .

Christmas is . . .

Leaving school for a week
 A reason to say "Merry Christmas" to the most beautiful girl in school
 Stringing popcorn
 Making breakfast in T.A.
 Loving your fellow man
 Christmas is too short!!!

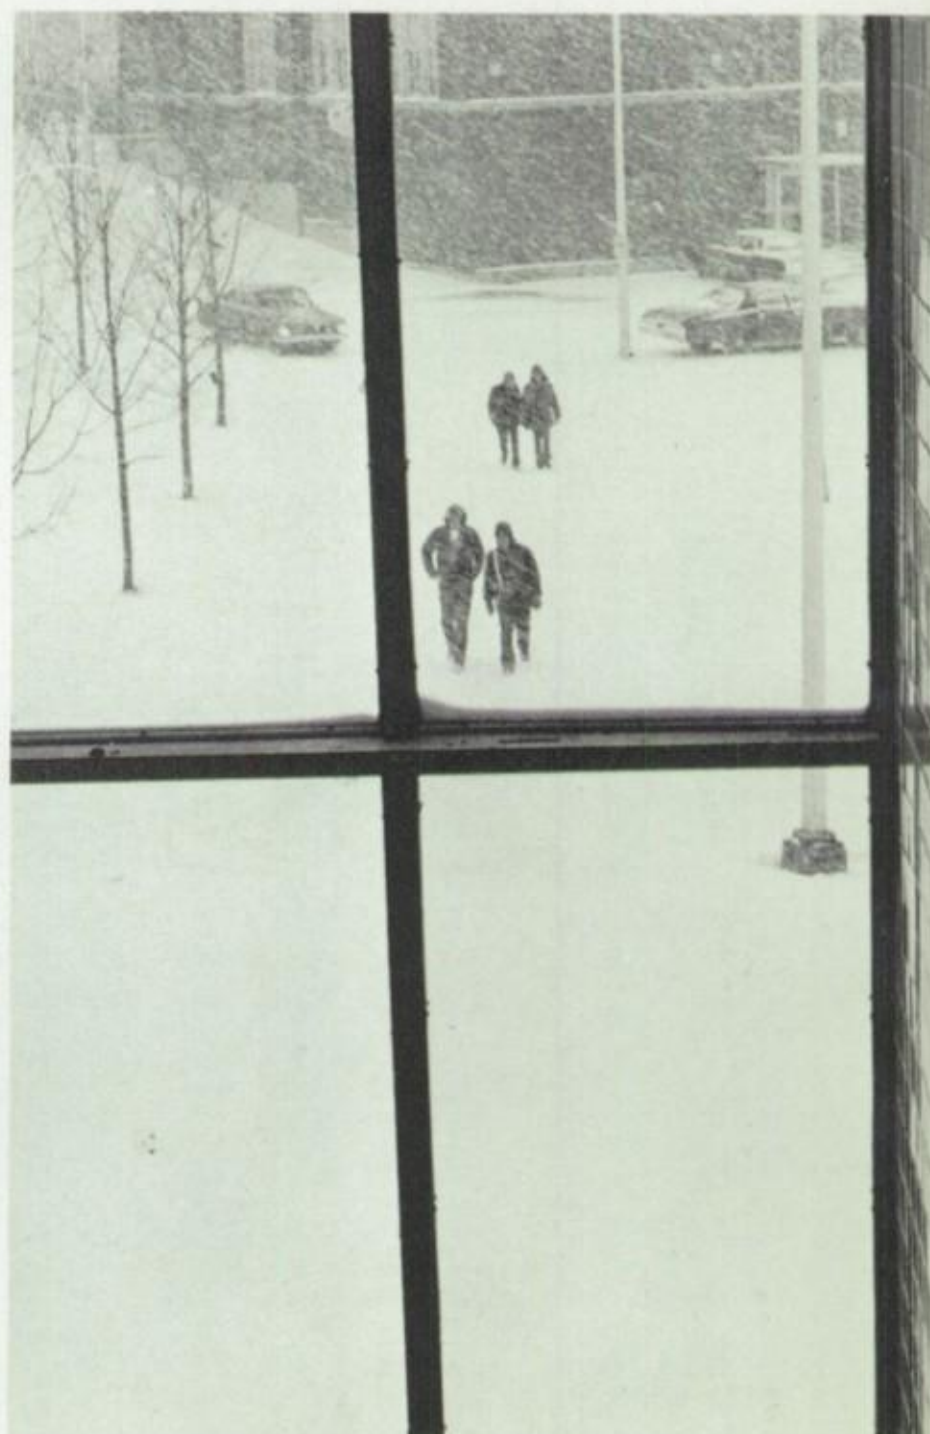

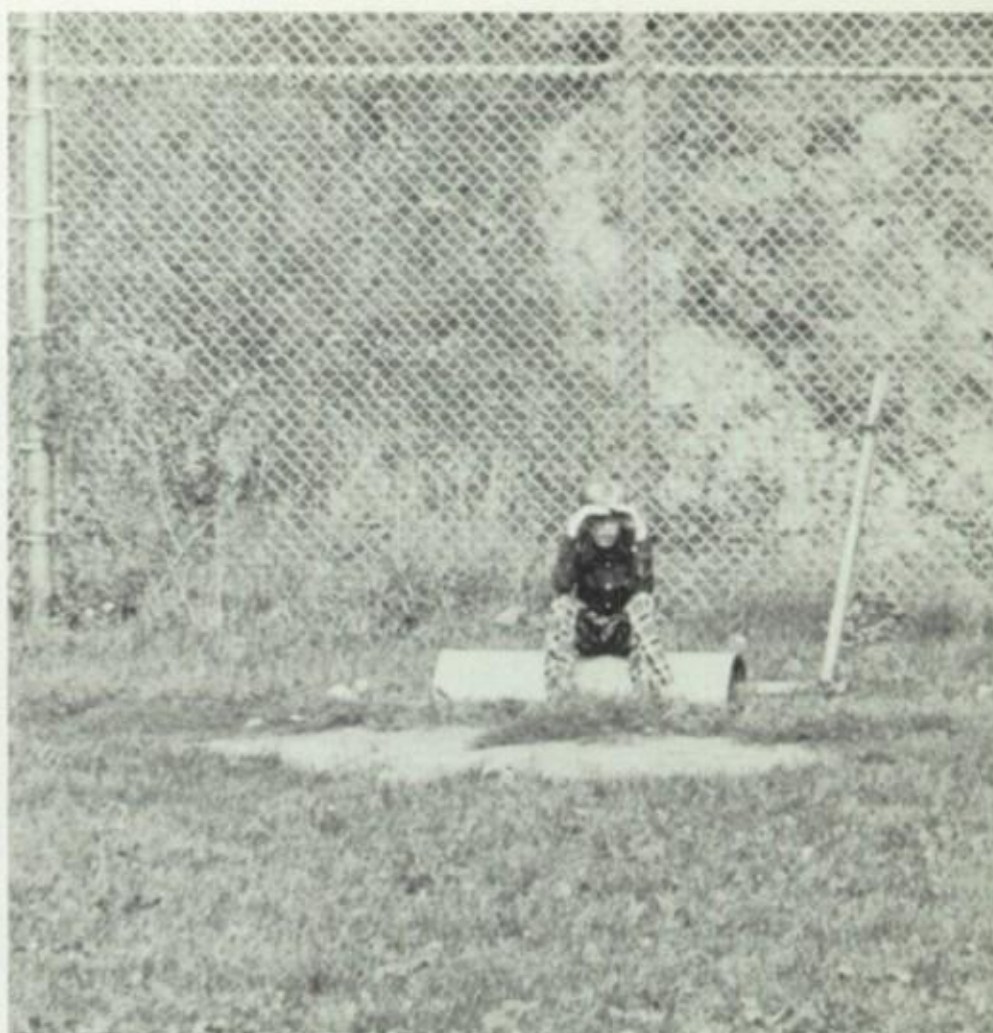

Take it for what it's worth to you, for you have made it what it is.

For the Class of '74 it's over. The joys, the tragedies, the apathy, as it may have been for each of us, are now memories. There will be no more cigarettes in the lav, choking on buses, chases by hall monitors, back parking lot races and "out to breakfast" signs on lockers.

For those of us in the Class of '74, there will be no more proddings to make us move, for we've grown, hopefully matured, and become adults. We will now be on our own. Many of us will be going on to jobs, others going on to school.

Whatever it is we do, we must keep in mind that we have made for ourselves our future. We have built our own foundations here at T.J.C. Look objectively at what you have done. Either be content with what you have accomplished or be dissatisfied, but at least care. We are now community, city, state, country, and world. However small it may be, we have a share in humanity.

You make your own life. Do with it as you will, but remember that "for better or worse" T.J.C. is part of our history. Let's hope we can look back and smile. C.S.

We of the 1973-1974 Glen Echo Staff wish to thank our advertisers for their support of our book. Without their patronage it would be almost impossible to complete our yearbook. Their interest in our school and its students has clearly been displayed. We hope you will in turn patronize their products and services.

THANK YOU!!!

Each leaf gently floats
to the naked ground below.
Brisk winds of seasons
silhouette the futility of man.
The sky did laugh and cry.

Each leaf,
before succumbed by the frosty earth
took a journey through the air.
They flew as the touch of the wind.
Drank the earth's sweet wine and danced with the sun and the rain.
Lived each moment
with a vigor
that seemed an eternity.

Days went into nights
and into days and into nights.
Life into life.
Life into death.
Time into time.

Suddenly Here we are,
confronted with a task,
That always seemed so distant.
To leave,
To experience a rebirth
and go on our own.

THE END

Producing the Glen Echo '74 was like running a relay race. Not only did we strive for the finish, but also for a unique stride. With each approaching deadline, time threatened our performance. However, that pressure improved our performance. We spent many hours behind the door of "Madame Sophie's Massage Parlour!"

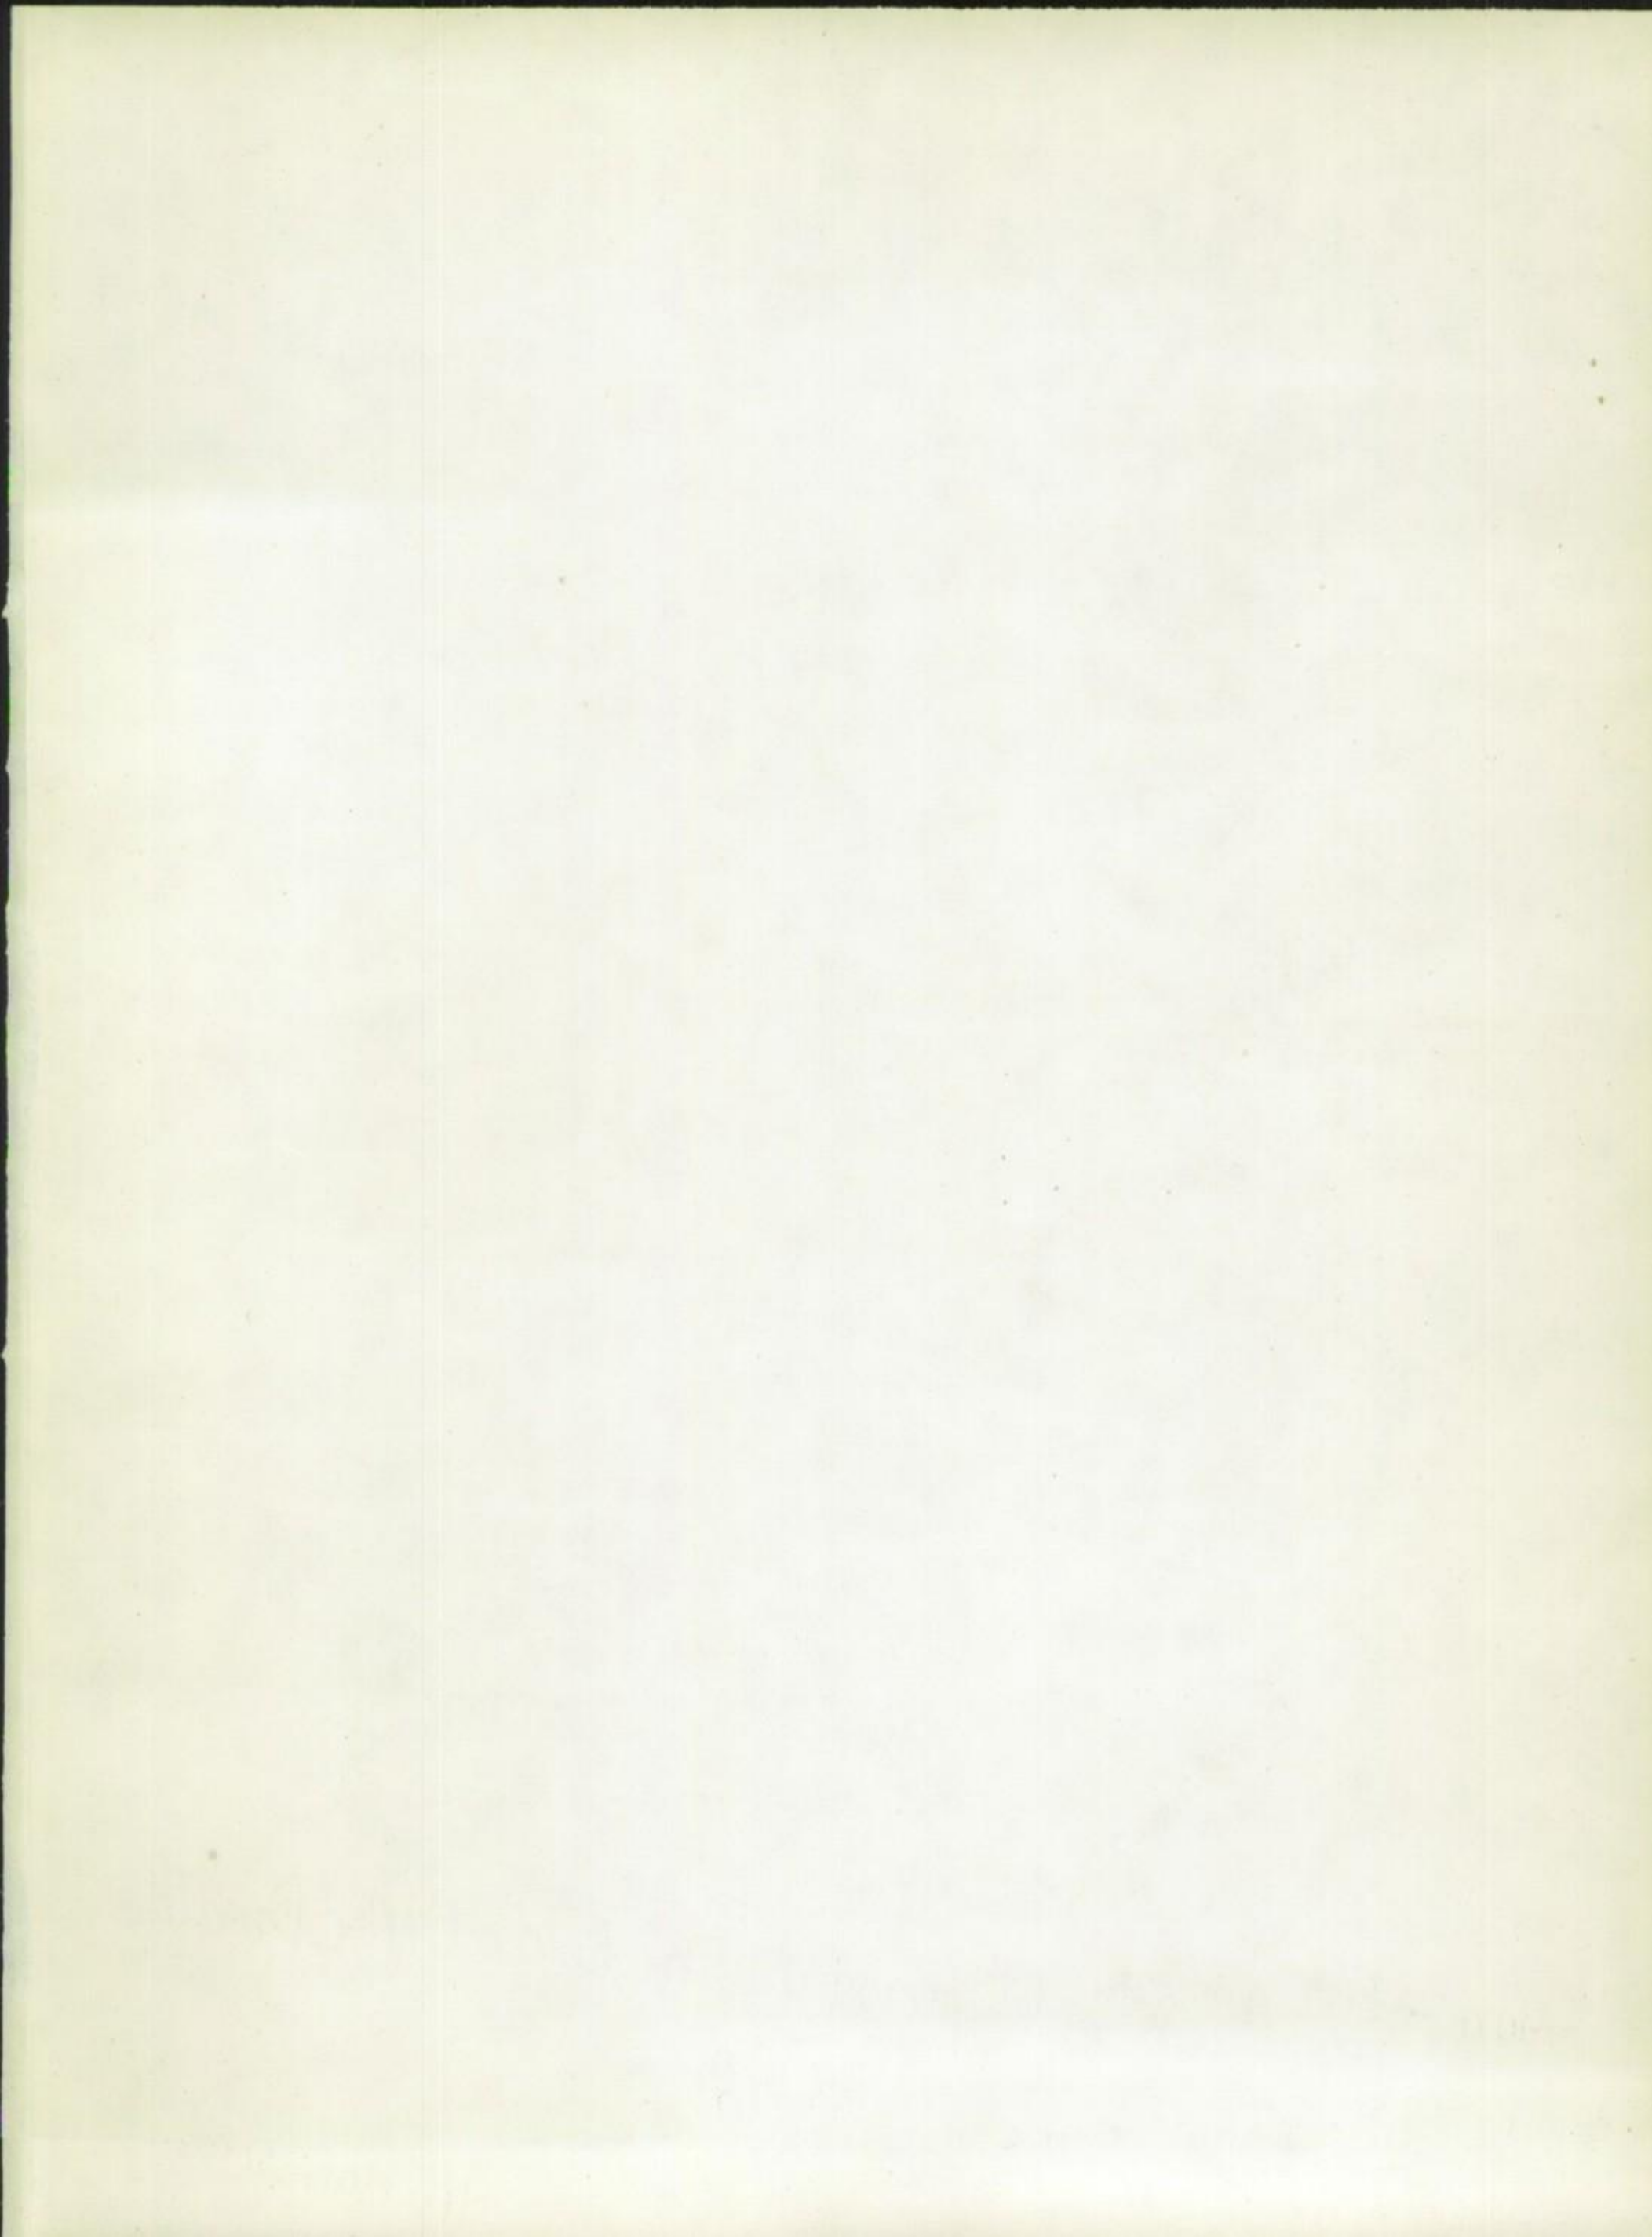

I want to thank the staff of Glen Echo '74 for every contribution you have made. What I love you most for is that everyone did it all. You're the best.

Our dedication is not one or two pages, but the entire book. We dedicate this book to being young.

Our theme and dedication, youth, is what this book will always reflect. At this point my creativity is not overwhelming, but Bob Dylan lent me a few appropriate words of optimism:

"May your hands always be busy
May your feet always be swift
May you have a strong foundation
When the wind changes swift
May your heart always be joyful
May your song always be sure
May you stay forever young"
